

discovery

the act or process of discovering disadvantages

some things that are not helpful or are causes of difficulty

disassembled

to come apart or take apart

discharge

a release of electrical energy from one object to another

disconnect

to sever the connection of or between discover

to obtain sight or knowledge of for the first time discoveries

the results of discovering

disease

a sickness

disinfection

the act of disinfecting; purification from infecting matter dispersal

the process or result of the spreading of organisms from one place to another disperse

to scatter or spread

disperses

to scatter or spread

dispersing

to scatter or spread

disposal

the act or process of disposing or getting rid of dispose

to get rid of

dissolve

to become incorporated uniformly into another material dissolves

to become incorporated uniformly into another material

dissolving

to become incorporated uniformly into another material

distinct

distinguishable to the eye or mind as discrete, separate distinguish

to perceive a difference in, to mark as separate or different